

Poster handover

Clinical cohort study · A0 landscape · society congress · 1,340 words cut to 480

This is a redacted sample. It shows the structure and level of detail of a real deliverable. Client names, journal names and identifying particulars have been removed or changed. Ask us and we will send one built around a manuscript like yours.

The cut, agreed before design began

Twelve hundred words came off this board and none of it was lost — it moved behind a QR code where the handful of people who want it will find it.

Decision	What	Why
Kept	The question, the design in one line, the primary outcome with its effect size, the conclusion. 480 words.	What a delegate can read standing up in thirty seconds.
Moved to QR	Full methods, three secondary analyses, sensitivity analysis, reference list.	Available in one scan; not on the board.
Cut	Literature review, acknowledgements paragraph, two tables restating a figure.	Nobody reads these on a board.
Promoted	The primary finding, lifted into a single sentence at 60 pt.	Readable from across the hall, which is where the decision to stop is made.
Queried	Which of two findings should lead.	Only the authors can decide what the poster is about.

Element	Set to
Headings	40 pt, sentence case, one weight throughout
Body	28 pt — above the two-metre legibility floor
Captions	22 pt, and nothing smaller anywhere on the board
Colour	Institutional palette, checked in greyscale and for colour-vision deficiency
QR code	Placed bottom right, resolving to the preprint and dataset, with scan tracking

Figures, rebuilt at board size

- Participant flow rebuilt as a CONSORT-style diagram at A0 scale, numbers reconciled with the manuscript
- Primary outcome curve redrawn at 300 dpi for A0 rather than enlarged from the paper, axis labels at 24 pt
- Subgroup forest plot simplified from eleven rows to five; the full plot sits behind the QR code
- Treatment pathway drawn as a new schematic, replacing two paragraphs nobody would have stood and read

Checked at a tenth of its size. The honest test of whether a poster works is whether it still says anything from across a hall. We look at every board that way before it goes to print.
